Business profile

Description:

This Dutch company creates video-film productions for commercials, virals, corporate films, television and feature films.

Their services and audio-visual tools support companies to visualize their story and promote their products. To create a proper video-film production the company analyzes the needs of its clients and works together with them to visualize the right message.

They can operate directly for companies or they can also join up with marketing, communication and advertising companies.

The company is looking for partnerships with companies that want to use a proven audio-visual strategy to promote their business or portfolio. They offer a collaboration in the framework of a service agreement.
